Coal at ten cents a bushel is sold to Uniontown people from the wrecks of barges sunk by the Finley early in the summer, and there is good demand for it. Although workmen have been busy for some time getting out the coal there is little depletion in the amount in the sunken barges.

New steamboats are never launched or make their trial trips on Friday. Superstitious rivermen say it is bad luck. One of the longest-lived and luckiest steamboats ever run was launched from the Ways at the old Howard Shipyard on Friday. She made her trial trip on Friday and left on her first business trip on Friday.

Two United States barges were launched Saturday, making a fleet of eight barges now ready to be delivered at Madison and Jeffersonville to United States Engineer Adams. Other boats are waiting their chances to get on the Ways for repairs. One hundred men are employed on the Ways and in the yard, and work for an additional fifty if they could be found.

The capitalization of the Pittsburgh Coal Company consists of $32,000,000 common stock, $32,000,000 preferred stock and $6,000,000 debenture bonds. It acreage, plant and equipment are valued at $77,000,000, and its total assets at $87,000,000. Adding the $45,000,000 assets of the River Coal Company, the combination of interests represents a total of $132,000,000.

The machinery now in the towboat Gleaner, at Pittsburgh, is over sixty years old, having been built in the early '40's for the packet steamer Simon Kenton, which was built for the Cincinnati and Maysville trade. The machinery was transferred to the John A. Porter, and, after wearing the boat out, was placed in the Sidney Dillon of the St. Louis and Mississippi Valley Line fleet. When the Dillon was wrecked the machinery was placed in the Gleaner, and is said to be in good condition yet. The Gleaner is owned by the People's Coal Company of Pittsburgh, and is considered one of its best boats.

The New Orleans Picayune says: "The steamboats are having their annual trouble with roustabouts, but this year are getting hit harder than usual, owing to the scarcity of that class of labor on the river. The blacks are now demanding and getting $75 per month from the tributary boats, which usually pay from $40 to $60, and from the coast packets are asking from $90 up. Yesterday the men demanded of the Mabel Comeaux $110 and all day, which is equivalent to two days' pay for one day's labor, or at the rate of over $200 per month. Capt. Comeaux, not being quite ready to turn over the gross receipts of his boat to the roustabouts, very properly postponed her departure."

The Memphis Commercial-Appeal says: "The steamboats out of Memphis always do a big business in the whisky line, remarked a steamboat Pilot yesterday. This business is almost exclusive. There are few, if any, mail orders in the cities. The people wait for the boats and purchase their jugs. I think the business is increasing. In the holiday season you would be surprised at the great volume of business done in this line. Hundreds of jugs are carried by every boat to supply the great demand. If the bars on the steamboats depended on the retail trade on the boats, by the passengers, they would lose money. You know it costs a saloonman nearly $5,000 per year for the bar privileges on a steamboat. His license and the other usual expenses come extra. The jug trade is equal to that of a small wholesale whisky house."

A Remarkable Record.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for over thirty years, during which time many million bottles have been sold and used. It has long been the standard and main reliance in the treatment of croup in thousands of homes, yet during all this time no case has ever been reported to the manufacturers in which it failed to effect a cure. When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even as soon as the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack. It is pleasant to take, many children like it. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. For sale by J. Jas. Wood & Son, Druggists.

MANTILL

Mr. Robert B. Mantell will appear in Maysville at the Washington Opera-house Monday, September 14th, in "The Light of Other Days." Imagine a beautiful persecuted heroine, a gallant unconquerable hero, a vengeful lady who loves him, a jolly weak-minded old rone who fears him, and two most despicable villains who hate him, and a dozen or so other characters—then think what complications must surely arise. And there are plenty of them in this charming romance of 1793 and 1810. Seats on sale at Ray's Drugstore Saturday morning.

TALKED TOO MUCH!

A Maysville Man Ran Amuck With the Cincinnati Police.

The Times-Star says Walter Stevens, aged 26, of this city, tested the quality of the Cincinnati Police force to his entire satisfaction Tuesday morning. He was sitting in a restaurant at Pearl and Broadway eating a lunch, when Officers Inwald and Hannakas went in to inquire the whereabouts of a man for whom they held a warrant.

Stevens overheard their inquiries and "batted in" to the conversation, opening with the remark that if the officers were in Kentucky they would not get their men so easily.

The officers did not desire trouble, which seemed to embolden him, and he became very boisterous, finally declaring that if they were in Kentucky he would kill them. They warned him to go away, but he would not and they finally attempted to put him under arrest. He resisted and Hannakas used his club, with the result that Stevens' head looked like a Hamburg steak when he was presented in Police Court.

He was fined $10 and costs on the charge of disorderly conduct.

IF YOU WANT A healthy woman what she would sell her health for and she would tell you that the choicest diamonds in the world could not buy it. What use for diamond rings to emphasize the shrunken fingers, or earrings to light up the cheeks hollowed by disease?

Health is the first requisite to womanly happiness. General ill-health in women has its origin in local womanly diseases. Cure the diseases of the delicate womanly organism and the general health is perfectly restored.

The remarkable benefits experienced from the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription are due to this medicine's perfect cures of womanly diseases. It establishes regularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness.

"It affords me great pleasure to be able to say a few words in regard to the merits of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' writes Mrs. Flora Ann, of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo. 'I was tempted to try these medicines after seeing the effect upon my mother. At an early stage of married life I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a troublesome drain which rendered me very weak and unfit for work of any kind. I began so thin there was nothing left of me but skin and bone. My husband became alarmed and got me a bottle of 'Favorite Prescription.' After he saw the wonderful effects of that one he got me two more, and after I used those up there was no more pain, and I began to gain in flesh very rapidly."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.
